Kings Cross has a fascinating history. The elegant Midland Hotel – now the St Pancras Renaissance – was completed in 1877 to a design by Sir George Gilbert Scott. The hotel also houses the Grade II listed Sir John Soane’s Museum, featuring architect Sir John Soane’s private collection of items spanning the Age of Enlightenment.

The Grade II listed Brunswick Centre allows you to shop, eat and meet in glorious surroundings.

An eclectic mix of restaurants, cafés and bars are emerging at King’s Cross.

Rafael, Drinking, Shopping
King’s Cross has Retail Therapy Avenue, which includes the Nobody’s Without and the Elephant & Castle. The Avenue offers a wide range of independent shops, restaurants and bars, all in the heart of King’s Cross.

Eating Lunch in Granary Square
Kings Cross also boasts two world-class orchestras, the London Sinfonietta and the Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment.

Kings Place
Kings Place is an arts venue The Scala, which is renowned as a new music venue. The Scala is part of the University of the Arts London.

Kings Place also boasts the London Sinfonietta, one of the UK’s leading forces in contemporary music. The Sinfonietta was founded in 1968 and is known for its innovative and exciting concerts.

Two of Britain’s most celebrated Victorian structures are here.

The Midland Grand Hotel – now the St Pancras Renaissance – was completed in 1877 to a design by Sir George Gilbert Scott. The hotel also houses the Grade II listed Sir John Soane’s Museum, featuring architect Sir John Soane’s private collection of items spanning the Age of Enlightenment.

Cultural Scene
Kings Cross possesses an array of cultural institutions. The British Library is one of the world’s largest libraries. The Wellcome Collection is an extraordinary, and highly beautiful, and also features the Information Age gallery.

The restful churchyard of the largely abandoned Christian worship in Victorian St Pancras Old Church, built upon what is now the King’s Cross Station. The churchyard of the largely abandoned Victorian St Pancras Old Church, built upon what is now the King’s Cross Station.

If you want to delve into the history – from warrior Queen Boudicca’s final battle with the Roman legions to the marshalling yard for the Imperial Transvaal War in 1900 – of cultural gems. These include the St Pancras Renaissance. The train station was built in 1877 to a design by Sir George Gilbert Scott.

The Grade II listed Brunswick Centre allows you to shop, eat and meet in glorious surroundings.

The-grade new home of Eurostar isn’t just for travellers. It ranges from eateries to suit the pocket and all tastes. For sustenance, try a walk along the Regent’s Canal, enjoying a selection of canoe trips from various companies.

The fantastic central location of the area is Woburn Walk, an attractive, Georgian and Victorian building.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: www.kingscross.co.uk twitter.com/kingscrossN1C

For further information:
King’s Cross Visitor Centre
Western Transit Shed
11 Stable Street
London N1C 4AB
+44 (0)20 3479 1795
www.kingscross.co.uk